Great photos, great designs...

By Dr. James Berryhill

anyone with an interest in semi pre-fab housing has heard of the use of recycled shipping containers being the basis of houses. This book shows us many of the best designs in many parts of the world. Anyone thinking of this technique of building should have this book.

Great picture book, lots of information and great ideas.

By CR73

This is a thick book packed with lots of pictures to look at and ideas to incorporate into the reader's designs. It has a bit of information on how to design your own container structure, but is by no means a "how to" book. Still, the pictures are great and you can get lots of new ideas from reading it.
