A sensitive, practical, humane approach to Whole Body Learning, for the Whole Child, who happens to have Autism :)

By Socially Speaking LLC

It is truly refreshing and impressive to find a book that treats the young child with Autism in a sensitive, holistic, matter of fact, and humane manner! Written by a very knowledgeable and supremely talented teacher, this book is a terrific resource for a true, collaborative, and methodical team approach to preschool Autism Intervention. It's filled with practical information about behavior management for "stemming" and "meltdowns", sensory processing issues, social communication issues, and even delayed onset of play skills; so crucial for early learning. I like this book so much, it has been featured in my Socially Speaking(tm) seminars and website for some time, and is on my keeper shelf!

I LOVE the way the chapters are organized and how the book is formatted!

Every page in every chapter is divided into 3 sections: What to Do, Helpful Hints, and a sidebar that has three suggestions: Objective, When to Use This Strategy, Materials Needed. A helpful reading list (resources) and terminology list (key terms) round out the flow of information, in easy to read, easy to understand chunks. The book layout is also visually appealing and really easy on the eyes :) The final chapter, "We're All In This Together" beautifully hits home the importance of a team approach and that counseling and educating the team members is an ONGOING privilege and process.

This book is a much needed resource for parents/professionals in the Autism community no matter which age/stage! I enjoyed reading it, and have enjoyed implementing it even more! Read it and you'll see what I mean :)

Great resource

By Metha

I bought this as it is recommended reading for my Uni course. It unwraps aspects of Autism Spectrum Disorder in simple, easy to understand language that I feel makes it a valuable addition to any workplace bookshelf. Staff at my Early Childhood Service loved it and we are purchasing a second copy to keep on our resource shelf.
