Why do I travel? Why does anyone of us travel? Bill Bryson poses these questions in his introduction to The Best American Travel Writing 2016, and though he admits, “I wasn’t at all sure I knew the answer,” they are questions worthy of examination. While the various contributors to this collection all travel for different reasons, one thing is for certain—they come back with stories. Whether traversing the Arctic by dogsled, attending a surreal film festival in North Korea, or strolling the streets of a fast-changing Havana, their insights into the world and the human condition are illuminating and enthralling, providing an answer: This is why I like to travel.

The Best American Travel Writing 2016 includes

Michael Chabon, Alice Gregory, Paul Theroux
Dave Eggers, Helen Macdonald, Sara Corbett, Stephanie Pearson
Thomas Chatterton Williams, Pico Iyer, and others

I have read this for years and was disappointed in the choice of material this year

By J. Yung

I have read this for years and was disappointed in the choice of material this year. Some have absolutely nothing to do with travel and a lot have just a passing reference. I blame Bill Bryson.

Bryson is one of the best writers and has superb books

By Robert Edwin Lee

Bryson did not write this book, he edited it. Bryson is one of the best writers and has superb books, all of which I have read. Though written by others, it is a good read.
