I love this book

By M. Hewitt

I bought this book years ago when I was single because I am an artist and loved the children's illustrations. It is a beautiful book filled with beautiful and colorful illustrations on every page that coincides with each of the poems and short stories within. I am now married and have a little girl and this book is currently part of her library. I hope she will treasure it as much as I still do.

Beautiful book!

By lisalvo

I had the My Good Night Book as a child and it was one of my favorites. I searched for it today in a used book store for my newborn daughter but couldn't find it. However I did find this book and I am thrilled to have it. The illustrations are precious and the stories are so cute. I hope it will become one of her favorites. Already she was enthralled by the illustrations at only 8 weeks old.

Very good, with a caveat.

By H. Childs

I ordered three books by Eloise Wilkins because my son had so loved one of her books 30 years ago and I remember being melted by the pictures. Opening the first, I was startled as it seemed ALL the people in illustrations are of European descent, and I had planned on including the books with shower gifts -- and the first mother-to-be was of a darker ethnicity. Looking at this particular one again, it seems to have tried, with limited success, to incorporate non-'Europeans' in illustrations. I love the combining of nursery rhymes, poems, prayers and stories and expect the family I give the book to will have hours and hours of enjoyment from their favorites. I am especially delighted with the very last selection, from "Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner": "He prayeth well / Who loveth well, / Both man and bird and beast. / He prayeth best who loveth best / All things both great and small; / For the dear God Who loveth us, / He made and loveth all." This is a message I think children cannot hear too many times.
